They move from family to family and arrive at church on Christmas Eve for the Christingle. If your family has Infant School age children or younger and would like to be part of this, please could a parent/carer email Charlotte New via the Parish Office no later than 10 November with a preferred email address, mobile number and address so she can plan their route round the Parish.

Collect

Almighty God,
you have made us for yourself,
and our hearts are restless till they find their rest in you:
pour your love into our hearts and draw us to yourself,
and so bring us at last to your heavenly city
where we shall see you face to face;
through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord,
who is alive and reigns with you,
in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
one God, now and for ever.

Today's Themes

The binding link in today's readings is the metaphor of Israel as a Vineyard. In Isaiah, the prophet is arguing that the people of Israel Are not producing the fruit that should be expected. The vineyard metaphor is then reworked in Jesus' parable. The link between Christians and Jews is explored in Paul's autobiographical paragraph. He himself is Jewish by birth and upbringing and yet is now a Christian.

| Reader               | Andrew Horn         |

Let me sing for my beloved my love-song concerning his vineyard: My beloved had a vineyard on a very fertile hill. He dug it and cleared it of stones, and planted it with choice vines; he built a watch-tower in the midst of it, and hewed out a wine vat in it; he expected it to yield grapes, but it yielded wild grapes. And now, inhabitants of Jerusalem and people of Judah, judge between me and my vineyard. What more was there to do for my vineyard that I have not done in it? When I expected it to yield grapes, why did it yield wild grapes? And now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard. I will remove its hedge, and it shall be devoured; I will break down its wall, and it shall be trampled down. I will make it a waste; it shall not be pruned or hoed, and it shall be overgrown with briars and thorns; I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it. For the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and the people of Judah are his pleasant planting; he expected justice, but saw bloodshed; righteousness, but heard a cry!

Psalm 80. 8 -16

show the light of your countenance, <sup>1</sup> and we <sup>1</sup> shall be <sup>1</sup> saved.
9 You brought a vine <sup>1</sup> out of <sup>1</sup> Egypt; □
you drove <sup>1</sup> out the <sup>1</sup> nations and <sup>1</sup> planted it.
10 You made <sup>1</sup> room a<sup>1</sup>round it, □
and when it had taken <sup>1</sup> root, it <sup>1</sup> filled the <sup>1</sup> land.
11 The hills were covered <sup>1</sup> with its <sup>1</sup> shadow □ and the cedars of <sup>1</sup> God <sup>1</sup> by its <sup>1</sup> boughs.
12 It stretched out its branches <sup>1</sup> to the <sup>1</sup> Sea □ and its <sup>1</sup> tendrils <sup>1</sup> to the <sup>1</sup> River.
13 Why then have you broken <sup>1</sup> down its <sup>1</sup> wall, □
so that all who pass <sup>1</sup> by pluck <sup>1</sup> off its <sup>1</sup> grapes?
14 The wild boar out of the wood <sup>1</sup> tears it <sup>1</sup> off, □
and all the <sup>1</sup> insects • of the <sup>1</sup> field de<sup>1</sup>vour it.
15 Turn again, O <sup>1</sup> God of <sup>1</sup> hosts, □ look down from <sup>1</sup> heaven <sup>1</sup> and be<sup>1</sup>hold; 16 Cherish this vine which your <sup>1</sup> right hand has <sup>1</sup> planted, □ and the branch that you <sup>1</sup> made so <sup>1</sup> strong for your<sup>1</sup>self.

Philippians 3.4b -14

Phil Doyle

Even though I, too, have reason for confidence in the flesh. If anyone else has reason to be confident in the flesh, I have more: circumcised on the eighth day, a member of the people of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew born of Hebrews; as to the law, a Pharisee; as to zeal, a persecutor of the church; as to righteousness under the law, blameless. Yet whatever gains I had these I have come to regard as loss because of Christ. More than that, I regard everything as loss because of the surpassing value of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things, and I regard them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the law, but one that comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God based on faith. I want to know Christ and the power of his resurrection and the sharing of his sufferings by becoming like him in his death, if somehow I may attain the resurrection from the dead. Not that I have already obtained this or have already reached the goal; but I press on to make it my own, because Christ Jesus has made me his own. Beloved, I do not consider that I have made it my own; but this one thing I do: forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on towards the goal for the prize of the heavenly call of God in Christ Jesus.

Gospel

Matthew 21.33-end

Jesus said, 'Listen to another parable. There was a landowner who planted a vineyard, put a fence around it, dug a wine press in it, and built a watch-tower. Then he leased it to tenants and went to another country. When the harvest time had come, he sent his slaves to the tenants to collect his produce. But the tenants seized his slaves and beat one, killed another, and stoned another. Again he sent other slaves, more than the first; and they treated them in the same way. Finally he sent his son to them, saying, "They will respect my son." But when the tenants saw the son, they said to themselves, "This is the heir; come, let us kill him and get his inheritance." So they seized him, threw him out of the vineyard, and killed him. Now when the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants?' They said to him, 'He will put those wretches to a miserable death, and lease the vineyard to other tenants who will give him the produce at the harvest time.' Jesus said to them, 'Have you never read in the scriptures: "The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone; this was the Lord's doing, and it is amazing in our eyes"? Therefore I tell you, the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a people that produces the fruits of the kingdom. The one who falls on this stone will be broken to pieces; and it will crush anyone on whom it falls.' When the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they realized that he was speaking about them. They wanted to arrest him, but they feared the crowds, because they regarded him as a prophet.
